

How fast can you legalize and attest my documents?

It's impossible to give an exact time because all two hundred plus U.S foreign embassies and consulates in Washington, D.C, vary greatly and they change constantly.

But in general, most foreign embassies take between 5-15 business days to issue a legalization or attestation on your documents once we hand submit your documents to them in person.