

What are your office hours?

If you live in the Austin, TX metro area, you can drop off your documents at our office anytime between 9am-5pm Mon-Fri (excluding all state and federal major holidays, severe weather, alien invasions, orc uprising, zombie apocalypses, etc.).

You can contact us by email seven days a week.

Also, please understand that your legal documents will not and cannot be apostilled, authenticated, attested, or legalized onsite at our office, so this isn't walk-in service per se.

The only legal and government entity in Texas that can issue state-level apostilles and authentication certificates is the Texas Secretary of State's office, which is where we will same-day file your documents.

The only legal and government entity in the United States that can issue federal-level apostille and authentication certificates is the U.S Department of State office in Washington D.C which is where we will rush file your documents on your behalf.

The only legal and government entity in the United States that can issue international-level document legalization and attestation certificates is a U.S foreign embassy in Washington D.C (and some foreign consulate offices scattered around the USA) which is where we will rush hand file documents on your behalf.
