

Can you apostille a Texas Articles of Incorporation document?

Yes and no.

The Texas Secretary of State changed what they used to call a Texas Articles of Incorporation document to a Texas Certificate of Formation document in 2006.

So any corporation legally registered with the Texas Secretary of State after 2006 will now only be issued a Texas Certificate of Formation apostille instead of a Texas Articles of Incorporation apostille.