

Do I need to provide you with a photo ID to apostille or authenticate my documents in Texas?

No.

The Texas Secretary of State does not require photo identification to obtain an apostille on any type of personal, business, or corporate documents.